

Risk Disclosures

At CoinCorner, we are committed to providing a secure and transparent platform for our customers.

There are inherent material risks associated with Virtual Assets, including those set out below. Virtual Assets:

- May lose their value in part or in full and are subject to extreme volatility at times.
- May not always be transferable and some transfers may be irreversible.
- May not be liquid.
- Some transactions are not private and may be recorded on public DLTs; and
- May be subject to fraud, manipulation, theft, including through hacks and other targeted schemes and may not benefit from legal protections.
